

Lisa Walker Statement

I've stitched and embroidered since I was a kid. When I changed materials and techniques many years ago from goldsmithing to the mass of materials the world offers, it was obvious I'd enter fabric and embroidery again. And now for the last 3-4 years I've discarded the readymade and all other materials except for fabric, semi precious beads, and paint. I'm making my own forms again, just like I did with goldsmithing and metal. KARLS HEAD is a perfect jewellery piece, a head below your head.
